

Want to make a difference in the world?

NICARAGUA - There are lots of ways to do that. Here's one. Help one of these young people continue his or her education after high school. The cost of sponsoring a student at a college, university, or vocational school in Nicaragua ranges from $25 to $100 a month. To Americans, that's an incredible value - an education for the cost of two or three dinners out each month! To these young men and women, it is more money than many of their families have ever seen in a month.

There is nothing left over for the future when you have to use everything to survive the present.
That's where we can make a difference.

Maybe we can afford to take a little from our present life and invest it in their future.

What difference will it make? It will make a difference:

In their lives

They will be able to provide a better living for themselves and their families. They will know the joy of developing and using the gifts God has given them.

In their families

Being the first in many of their families to attend college brings the hope that things can change and gives others the courage to try.

In their communities

The education and skills that they acquire will improve the communities they live in. Their success will make a difference in the lives of those around them.

In their country

Nicaraguans will make Nicaragua better, and these young people are among the best Nicaraguans to do that.

In the Kingdom

"The King will reply, 'I tell you the truth, whatever you did for one of the least of these brothers of mine, you did for me.' Matthew 25:40

Ready to make a difference? Here's how.

The young men and women you see here have all graduated from secondary school at Josue 1:8 in Los Brasiles in Nicaragua. They have been awarded scholarships from NRN based on their character, academic effort, and desire to continue their education. The scholarship funds come through sponsorship from people like us, people who want to make a difference. The students you see here need sponsors so that they can continue their education. Read on to learn more about each of these special young people. If you are interested in sponsoring one of these students, or receiving more information about sponsorships, please contact Alice Kessinger by email at skk_aak@sbcglobal.net.

There are currently about 20 college students that need sponsors, more than are shown here. For more information on sponsoring a college student, contact Jill McManus at jjmcmamus@hotmail.com (for college students from Belcer's school), or Ginny Campbell at ccampb667@aol.com (for college students from Oscar's school).
